Foreword

This issue of the Mennonite Yearbook comes to you again with all data and statistical material revised and brought up to date as near as it was possible. As the work of the church continues to grow, the task of gathering and compiling statistics becomes greater. It is intended that all the various avenues of the work of the church be represented. Each issue usually contains some statistical representation of a new field of service in the church. This year a table giving a list of the Christian day schools is the new feature.

Considerable space in the 1946 Yearbook is taken up by reports, data, and statistics of the relief and Civilian Public Service work. We feel that the material given in these two areas of the work of the church will be of special interest to every member of the church.

We are grateful for the expressions of appreciation for the data giving the dates of births and ordinations of the bishops, ministers, and deacons of the church, as was published last year. A number of errors in this tabulation have been reported. Instead of attempting to run a supplement each year, it is planned that the table will appear within a few years again with all errors corrected and the new ministers listed.

The editor is deeply grateful to all officers of the various conferences and organizations who co-operated and supplied the statistics for this issue. He is grateful also to those who took the time to send in constructive suggestions for his issue. All may be assured that these suggestions were gratefully appreciated, and anyone is welcome to send in his suggestions at any time. Although this year showed a small decrease in the total membership of the church, we should all be thankful for the growth of the church in continuing to reach out into new fields of service, and we ought to be willing to give our support as the Lord lays it upon our hearts.

Mennonite General Conference

By Allen H. Erb, Moderator

The article in the 1945 Mennonite Yearbook reported a special session of General Conference in 1944 and the intent to hold a regular session in 1945.

As the Executive Committee of General Conference arranged to plan for the regular session of General Conference in 1945, considerable conviction in the church was revealed against holding such a session at this time. All the committees working in General Conference were contacted and, as a result of this counsel, it was decided to postpone the session of Conference, probably to 1946. Furthermore, a notice was published in the Gospel Herald calling for any reactions against such a procedure. There was no general conviction revealed against the above decision.

As indicated in the above paragraph, it was in the mind of the Executive Committee that the regular session of Conference be held in 1946, but as time develops, some convictions seem to be revealed that the regular session of Conference should not be held till 1947. A counsel was taken with the Interboard Committee of General Conference, which represents all the active boards and committees in the General Conference. The results of this poll indicated a majority conviction that a special session of Conference should be held this year and a regular session of Conference next year. In view of this counsel, the Executive Committee decided that with the approval of all the executive committees of the district conferences under the Mennonite General Conference, they would call a special session for this year.

The Executive Committee has arranged that the time and place of meeting be arranged in co-operation and conjunction with the Publication Board meeting. A program committee has been appointed. In due time, in co-operation with the Publication Board Executive Committee, a program and place of meeting will be announced.

Some of the immediate special issues for consideration are "Readjustment of the Church from Wartime to Peacetime Conditions"; "Problems of the Church and Returning Draftees"; "War Relief"; "Peacetime Conscription"; "Mutual Aid"; "Moral Issues Immediately Intensified by War and Postwar Conditions."

The above plans for the 1946 session call for a special delegate ministers' session only. The 1947 session of General Conference will then be looked forward to as a regular old-fashioned open session of conference. Future plans will be made in the light of developing conditions and convictions. May our prayers ascend for a pure and a united Church.

La Junta, Colo.

Mennonite Missions in 1945

By S. C. Yoder, President
Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities

A number of events have taken place the past year that are encouraging the missionary interests of the church. The war came to a close and no doubt travel conditions will become less congested and restricted. It will probably also become less difficult to pass from one country to the other as peace plans progress and as the barriers imposed by the war will be removed.

From the financial viewpoint the past year was one of the best, if not the best, in the history of the Board. The spirit of giving is on the increase among us and no doubt many are learning the joy of sharing what they have with others.

The great need for workers has not been entirely filled. Lena Graber and Florence Nafziger, both nurses, are now in India filling a need of long standing. Arrangements are made for the sailing of Dr. Dana Troyer and Jay Hostetlers soon after the holidays. These recruits together with J. N. Kaufman and his wife, Dr. Lillie Kaufman, will materially strengthen our force in India.

In Argentina our efforts have not been so successful. Political conditions continue to make it practically impossible to send new workers to that field. Frank Byler and wife, who were to have sailed soon, will be sent to the Mexican border to study the language until the way opens for them to go to Argentina. Clifford Snyder and wife, who were under appointment to serve in that country, will go to Chicago to study the Spanish language and help in the Mexican Mission.

A new work is in the process of being opened in Puerto Rico. Paul Lauver and his wife arrived in San Juan on Christmas Day. They are the first missionaries to the Puerto Ricans. Dr. Troyer and wife, who have given years to the work in India, are also under appointment to Puerto Rico. The past years they served under the Mennonite Central Committee at La Plata, but with their return to the island they will take up work with the Mission Board.

At home the outstanding projects now in the process of being carried out are the plan for enlarging the hospital at La Junta by building a new wing to the present structure. It is the purpose of the Board to enlarge the Children's Home at Kansas City, and to erect a church building for the Spanish-speaking Mennonites in Chicago during the coming year. It is hoped also that a very substantial part of the money for the new hospital may be raised.

We look forward with hope into the New Year and pray that God will direct all the activities of the Mission Board and the church to His glory. We are grateful to Him for all His benefits and appreciate the loyal support of the mission cause by the brotherhood. May the Lord guide us throughout the New Year and make all our effort fruitful and helpful.

The New Hospital and School of Nursing

By J. D. Graber, Secretary of Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities

History

For a number of years the conviction has been growing that the church should have an enlarged hospital witness and make more provision for the training of nurses. This increasing concern made itself vocal through the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities. In the Annual Meeting of 1943 a committee was appointed to make surveys and study the problems involved in establishing a school of nursing. A questionnaire was sent to a large number of ministers, and from a tabulation of the replies received, it was gathered that there were more than ninety Mennonite girls receiving their nursing education in state and non-church institutions. Nearly a hundred ministers answered in the affirmative the question of whether the church should seek to provide more nursing school facilities, while only four actually answered in the negative. Studies were also made by this committee on the type of nursing school we should seek to have.

A Collegiate School of Nursing

Because of rising standards in the requirements for nursing education, the fact that girls just out of high school are too young to enter nursing, and also the tendency of more and more girls to take at least a year or two of college before entering a nursing school, to say nothing of the educational advantages of this procedure, led the committee to recommend a collegiate school of nursing as best adapted to our needs.

When this report was brought to the Board Meeting at Kidron, Ohio, it was decided to take definite action. The Executive Committee was authorized to appoint a committee to carry the project forward.

Co-operation with Board of Education

At the Annual Meeting a decision had been reached that the nursing school should be of collegiate grade and that the school and hospital be located in Elkhart County, at or near Goshen College. It became evident that the educational aspects of the program really belong to our Board of Education while the Board of Missions and Charities might well limit itself to the building of the plant and to the administration of the hospital. At the Annual Meeting held at Goshen, Indiana, in early June, 1945, this actual division of function was decided upon.

Location

The location of the hospital was one of the difficult problems of the year between the 1944 and 1945 Annual Meetings. Because of the decision to attach the nursing school to Goshen College it was felt by many that the hospital should be located near the college campus. At Goshen the hospital would also be located nearer the center of Mennonite and Amish population in northern Indiana. But, when we remembered that we were required to have an average of 100 patients per day in the hospital in order to have a recognized school of nursing, and since the provision for nursing education was our prime objective to be attained as early as possible, the decision finally went to Elkhart. The committee came to the settled conclusion that in Elkhart, the larger city, with its industries and more numerous medical and surgical staff, we had the better chance to succeed. The location on the south side of Elkhart makes it possible for patients from the East and South and for college supervision personnel to reach the hospital without driving through the city.

Plans

An architectural firm was engaged and various plans for building have been studied. The Annual Meeting of 1945 instructed the Planning Committee to adopt a plan and actually begin building when funds were in hand and when the time appeared opportune. It is clear that building operations cannot begin during the winter of 1945-46 but it is hoped that by the summer or autumn of 1946 ground may be broken and the construction begun.

Solicitation

The immediate task before the Planning Committee is the raising of funds. It is becoming more and more clear that this hospital and nursing school project will cost no less than three-quarters of a million dollars when complete, and possibly more. We believe there should be some persons in the church who can give large donations of five and ten thousand dollars. There are many who can give more modest gifts. We have confidence that when we all work together we can make this necessary and desirable institution for the church a reality.

Activities of the Mennonite Relief Committee

By J. L. Horst, Chairman

Besides supporting the relief work conducted by the Mennonite Central Committee the Mennonite Relief Committee of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities sponsors relief activities in a number of fields in which it appoints the workers and gives them full financial support. This work is carried on through the facilities of the Mennonite Central Committee but is under the specific direction of the Mennonite Relief Committee.

The first appointments of our committee were for the China field, but while some of our workers were waiting in India to enter China they served under the Bengal unit of India workers under the M.C.C. This was the case of Lawrence Burkholder, Clayton Beyler, and Titus Lehman. Just recently Bros. Burkholder and Beyler entered China, along with three workers going out under the M.C.C. They expect to do refugee work in Hankow. Verna Zimmerman and Vera Yoder are doing missionary nursing service in India until they can enter China. It is hoped that, now that the door to China is opening, our other three workers will soon be on the field also. This unit will work with the M.C.C. until it finds a separate field of service.

The Mennonite Relief Committee has also opened work in Ethiopia, after an investigation by Samuel A. Yoder and Ervin Hooley, who transferred to this field from refugee work in Egypt. The Ethiopia work is to be largely medical and health service, and it is planned to use a hospital in the region of Adama, about sixty miles from Addis Ababa. Besides those mentioned, Nancy Hernley, R.N., went to this field from Egypt, and Bro. and Sister G. Irvin Lehman, and Dr. Paul Conrad arrived from America, having been especially appointed for this work. Geneva Alexander has also been appointed for this field, and two other workers, a dietitian and general worker, are needed. Bro. Yoder will probably return from this field after the preliminary work is finished.

In the fall of 1945 the M.R.C. sent the writer to Europe as a special commissioner to investigate possible relief needs in Belgium. The result of these investigations was that the committee decided to open up work in Belgium. Bro. Cleo Mann was appointed director and reached the field in November. Wilson Hunsberger and Paul Peachey have been appointed as additional workers and are expected to sail early in 1946.

During the past summer the Mennonite Relief Committee conducted three service units, which served in West Liberty and Canton, Ohio; Detroit, Mich.; and Culp, Ark. Fifteen young people gave two months of service during which time they engaged in summer Bible school and Sunday school work, made religious surveys, and performed other types of Christian service. The men also did such practical work as painting and repairing buildings, while the sisters cared for sick people and engaged in dress-making. It is planned to continue this work this summer. Bro. Laurence Horst has been appointed to supervise this work and will give a number of months to this task during the spring and summer. It is also planned to open up this type of work among our missions in India. Bro. Milton Smucker has already been appointed for the work in this field.

In addition to work as outlined above the Mennonite Relief Committee has also been responsible for the administration of C.P.S. Dependency Allowances granted by the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities. Allowances granted are twenty-five dollars per month for each wife of a C.P.S. man, on condition that the wife is unable to support herself, and ten dollars per month for each child. Scores of cases were handled by the committee, and the work was well supported by our congregations which raised money on a quota basis.

The Mennonite Relief Committee is looking forward to a year of considerable activity as the projects under its supervision go into full action. There remains yet much to be done. May your prayers and support continue in behalf of the work.

Mennonite Relief Efforts During 1945

By Irvin B. Horst, Publicity Manager of M.C.C.

The year 1945 was one of increased relief concern and activity on the part of Mennonites. While a relief ministry was carried on during World War II, the opportunity to bind up the wounds and relieve the suffering of war victims was increased many fold when hostilities in Europe came to an end in the spring of this past year and also in Asia during the late summer. A major part of this opportunity relates to the effects the war had upon the Mennonites who resided in the battle areas. We believe that our first responsibility should be to our household of faith and consequently much of our relief effort is being directed to bring assistance to our brethren in Europe. Also, the war has affected several Mennonite mission fields, particularly those in the Far East, and we feel that we have an obligation there.

These first concerns, however, have not deterred the M.C.C. in its established policy to minister to all needy ones it may have opportunity to serve regardless of their religious affiliation, nationality, or social status.

Major Developments on the Field

The prayers of many of our people were answered when the door opened during the past year for entrance into Northwest Europe. In March our workers entered France; in July, Holland; in September, Belgium. Also, C. F. Klassen, during the fall months, entered Germany and Denmark and established contacts with many displaced Russian and German Mennonites. This past year also saw the initial work begun for the opening of a relief project in Ethiopia. Under UNRRA, five Mennonite workers began service in Italy in behalf of displaced persons. In the Far East, Mennonite representatives were able to reach Chungking and begin negotiations for a work in China. In Paraguay the way seems to be opening for the setting up of a leper colony. During the summer of 1945, Orie O. Miller visited the Mennonite relief fields in Europe, Middle East, and Far East. H. A. Fast carried out a similar mission to our Latin American relief interests.

Northwest Europe

In England a number of projects were discontinued with the close of the war, but the Center at 68 Shepherds Hill remains the headquarters office for the entire Northwest Europe program and "Taxal Edge," the home near Manchester for convalescent boys, is maintained. The relief work in France has been re-established along the pattern set up before the war. Six children's colonies are directed by Mennonite personnel. A center has been located at Chalon-sur-Saone from which the distribution of food and clothing is to be directed. In co-operation with Dutch Mennonites a program of relief is administered in Holland. Large shipments of food, clothing, shoes, and soap have been directed to Holland and are distributed from the office at 452 Singel, Amsterdam. The Mennonite Relief Committee has been interested in relief service in Belgium and after preliminary investigation has directed workers, funds, and material aid to this field. In Brussels, two M.C.C. workers are serving under the YMCA in camps for prisoners of war.

Middle East

In the earlier months of 1945 sixteen Mennonite relief workers were serving in the refugee camps in Egypt under the administration of UNRRA. Later when the war closed several of the camps were discontinued and many of the Yugoslav and Greek evacuees were repatriated. Consequently the Mennonite personnel was transferred to other relief fields. At the present time only four Mennonite workers remain in Egypt and with the close of the year they were being assigned to work elsewhere. In May, 1945, one of our workers, Marie K. Fast, lost her life at sea while assisting in the repatriation of Yugoslav refugees. In Ethiopia (Mennonite Relief Committee) three workers made investigation for the organizing of a relief unit in that country. Adama, a place sixty miles north of Addis Ababa, has been decided upon as the location for our service in Ethiopia. Italy is not in the Middle East, but five of our workers who had been serving in Egypt were transferred to this country and in a general way it has been considered a part of our relief interests in the Middle East. The personnel in Italy are also serving under UNRRA with assignment to camps for displaced persons. In December of 1945 seven additional workers were appointed for Italy and a shipment of relief clothing was consigned.

Far East

The major part of our relief effort in this area was expended in India, particularly in Bengal in connection with famine and flood relief and rehabilitation. The program in India has developed into a supplementary work to the Mennonite and Brethren in Christ missions in that country. Two relief workers have served in administrative capacities for the Bengal Christian Council. During the month of October, S. F. Pannabecker and P. P. Baltzer were able to enter China and initiate plans for the organizing of a Mennonite relief unit in Honan. Considerable interest has been shown in beginning a relief service in the Philippine Islands and in the Dutch East Indies.

Latin America

The M.C.C. relief program in Paraguay has been one of providing mutual aid for our brethren in the Chaco and the carrying out of a number of relief efforts as "thank you" projects in behalf of the Paraguayan people. A supplementary child-feeding program was conducted on a small scale at Itacurubi. The ground work for the founding of a leper colony has been laid and investigation has been carried out for the opening of a hookworm-control project. The program in Paraguay is co-ordinated through the center in Asuncion. In Puerto Rico our relief efforts continue along the lines of a medical and community-building program in co-operation with PRRA. The hospital at the La Plata Center and the out-clinics cared for approximately nine hundred out-patient calls and about one hundred hospitalized patients per month. The community-building program provides educational, recreational, vocational, and home-making training. During the latter part of 1945 the construction of a unit chapel was begun.

Food, Clothing, Money

During the summer of 1945 a food-for-relief program was organized and initiated throughout the Mennonite and Brethren in Christ churches in United States and Canada. The response to this form of material aid was enthusiastic and liberal. Amazingly large quantities of meat, flour, canned fruit and vegetables, and other foodstuffs were donated. Processing centers and warehouses were opened at East Petersburg, Pa., and Kalona, Iowa, in the States; and at five different points in Canada. Communities in Pennsylvania, Virginia, Maryland, and Indiana prepared their donations at commercial canneries and operated portable ones. Twenty-five C.P.S. men were detached to man the canneries, collection centers, and warehouses.

The following tables provide statistics on the extent of contributions to the food program. It will be noted that by far the largest single item of food contributed is flour. Present indications are that the total for United States and Canada will reach 110 carloads. Noteworthy also are the two carloads of raisins, two and one-half carloads of beans, and a carload of corn. Other carload lots of grain and fruit are in prospect. The home processed foods contributions for United States and Canada bid fair to exceed the 600,000 quart mark. The end of the fiscal year, November 30, 1945, is not the best time to summarily report on the relief food program as many of the donations will arrive during the winter months. However, the reports on contributions and shipments made to date are given here and additional information will be provided in later reports.

SUMMARY OF CARLOAD CONTRIBUTIONS

To Food for Relief Program

October 1, 1945 to November 30, 1945

Due to the manner in which carload contributions are often made up it is impossible to break these contributions down by denominational groups. They are therefore reported here by communities from which the contributions originate. Prices used are fixed by the Akron office for export evaluation purposes and will not necessarily coincide with prices current in the communities where the contributions originate. Only shipments forwarded prior to December 1 are included in this report.

It has become apparent that the close of the war and the opening up of relief areas has placed upon us an urgent and weighty opportunity and challenge for a positive expression of our peace convictions, the rendering of mutual assistance to many of our Mennonite brethren, and a witness to the evangelical faith and practice of Christianity. With continued prayer, financial and material support, the consecration of devoted workers, and the operation of the Holy Spirit we may continue to witness to the Gospel of peace and love and not fail in the work which the times have laid upon us.

Akron, Pa.

Mennonite Civilian Public Service in 1945 and the Work of the Peace Problems Committee

By H. S. Bender, Chairman Peace Problems Committee

A. Work of the Peace Problems Committee

The year 1945 brought V-E Day and V-J Day, but it did not bring to a close the responsibilities of the Peace Problems Committee in connection with the war. In fact the problems of how best to deal with discharged service men, and of assimilating C.P.S. men most effectively back into the life of the Church, were added to the work of the Committee. Three meetings of the full Committee were held during the year: March 3, June 1, and November 3. In these meetings the Committee reviewed the work for which it is responsible and attempted to keep abreast of current issues affecting our position on war, peace and nonresistance.

Throughout the year the Church successfully carried the load of financing both C.P.S. expenditures and C.P.S. dependency needs. The C.P.S. monthly quota remained at 50 cents per member, but one extra month's payment was added to meet the need. The C.P.S. Dependency Aid Program required 25 cents per member per month during most of the year. The splendid record of the Church in meeting its C.P.S. obligations has been a source of encouragement as well as a demonstration of what can be done financially when deep conviction motivates the work. The work of the Pastoral Subcommittee was continued and enlarged during the year, and has proved to be very helpful. This Committee is including in its work, counsel to returning C.P.S. men and the home ministerial leadership to help in the full return of our discharged C.P.S. men to the ranks of active home church membership. In this connection, the Committee authorized the publication of a series of pamphlets describing the activities of the Church and designed primarily for returning C.P.S. men.

No new peace literature was published during the year, but a book of stories of heroes of nonresistance, intended for teen-age young people, was authorized. G. F. Hershberger's book War, Peace and Nonresistance sold so well that the first edition of 2,000 copies was almost exhausted by the end of the year. A new edition will be necessary.

The draft census was completed and the results made available about the middle of the year. The complete report of this valuable study will be published in the Gospel Herald. It may suffice here to say that the report shows that in the Church at large forty per cent entered the army, and sixty per cent went into C.P.S. It also shows that the highest percentage going into the army services were found among eighteen- and nineteen-year-olds, factory workers as versus other occupations, and high school students as versus grade school or college. The record has been made for World War II, but it is not what it should have been. The Church is challenged by this report to an increased program of teaching and conviction building on nonresistance for the future.

The national policy on peacetime military training was not settled during the year, as had first been anticipated. Great efforts have been put forth by the military leaders to secure a permanent one-year training program, but it is doubtful that this will succeed. Together with representatives of the other Mennnite branches co-operating with M.C.C., Amos Horst and H. S. Bender of the Committee appeared before the public hearings of the House Military Affairs Committee in Washington to present their testimony against conscription and on behalf of conscientious objectors. The Committee is awaiting the final decision of the Federal Congress before taking up decisions regarding future policy in case a permanent C.P.S. program should become necessary.

The Malcolm C.P.S. Camp Farm Unit continued under the operation of the Committee during the year. H. A. Diener, C. L. Graber, and Simon Gingerich were authorized by the Committee to supervise the administration of the camp and the farm. Ralph Hernley and Olen Britsch continued as director and business manager respectively of the Malcolm Camp.

Due to the death of Edward Yoder, Howard Charles of Lititz, Pennsylvania, was appointed to edit the bimonthly Gospel Herald peace page.

The financial needs of the Committee were covered by the balance of a five cents per member assessment which had been levied in 1944 and a monthly allocation of approximately $100 from the C.P.S. above-quota levy of 1% for overhead expenses. An additional five cents per member levy is being asked for 1946.

B. The C.P.S. Program for 1945

I. Administration. The general plan of administration of the C.P.S. program under the Mennonite Central Committee was continued without change during the year 1945. The close of the war did not affect the program to any noticeable degree during the year. The regular draft continued, and the same Selective Service policies were in effect. In Canada the opposite was true. There all the remnants of the war-time C.O. service program were abolished.

By the end of the year the total personnel service in the C.P.S. program amounted to 162, including 24 general administrative persons and 138 administrative members of the staff in base camps and hospital units. Nearly all of these, except women workers, were C.P.S. assignees.

II. Demobilization. Although the war actually came to an end in its two sections in May and September, technically the war has not yet ended. Consequently the draft has continued, and demobilization has been very slow. All men over thirty-eight, all over thirty-five with two years of C.P.S. service, and all with four years of service, were demobilized by Christmas time. Nearly 700 from M.C.C. camps were discharged during the last three months of the year, for all reasons, of which demobilization was the chief. The announced policy is to discharge all men with three years of service by June 1, 1946. This means an average monthly discharge of about 300, and will reduce the C.P.S. population in M.C.C. camps to about half of its high point, or slightly more than 2,000 men. From the above report it is evident that demobilization did not affect the C.P.S. very much in 1945.

III. Finances. The total cost of C.P.S. operations under the M.C.C. for 1945 (December 1, 1944 to November 30, 1945) as shown in Table II, was $824,993.78 as compared to $638,117.82 for 1944 and $706,699.72 for 1943. The increase of about $75,000 in actual camp operations was due largely to the increase of C.P.S. population, with part resulting from the increase of food costs. The average C.P.S. population for the year was about 900, or 30% higher than for 1944. The average monthly operating cost was about $65,000. Income did not meet expenditures by $22,000, but the initial balance of almost $150,000 was able to absorb this deficit and still leave about two-months' reserve for the new year. Quota contributions from our own church were $320,662.59, plus gifts in food of $12,625.23, or a total of $333,288.82. The 1944 figures were $298,059.18, $25,013.39 and $323,072.57 respectively. Total cash contributions to C.P.S. from our church from the beginning to November 30, 1945, amounted to $1,150,908.55.

The Mennonite Board of Education and Some Challenges Which It Faces

By C. F. Yake, Secretary

The Mennonite Board of Education is the church's agent to provide directives and to give guidance for the promotion of her higher Christian educational work. As such, the Board's function is quite general and the detailed accomplishment of its program is dependent chiefly upon those who are entrusted with the task in administrative offices, classrooms, and on campuses. However, just as a general and his staff are vitally interested in and directly concerned about the trend of affairs in the front lines where the battle is actually fought, so the Board of Education is equally interested in and concerned about the trend of events in college halls and campuses where the Christian educational offensive is actually being waged.

The offensive centers chiefly around the attainment of Christian educational objectives in the lives of the students attending the colleges. These objectives lie in the realm of (1) the academic, (2) the physical, (3) the spiritual, (4) and the practical. And the chief element in the offensive is of course the Christian. If it were not for this, then state universities and colleges and the public institutions of learning could train our young people, and the church would not need to be concerned about the problem. However such is not the case; the Christian element is the most important. The offensive, therefore, is constantly confronted with all that would hinder and oppose that which is Christian, and that which the church dearly cherishes and seeks to promote.

Specifically we are challenged to give (1) academic and vocational training of the highest possible standard, and give it with a Christian emphasis to the students who come to our campuses. We are challenged to give them (2) opportunity for physical development and adjustment through a Christian recreational program, and through Christian social guidance that will make them noble young people of balanced Christian personality. We are challenged further to give them (3) spiritual nurture that will stabilize and fortify them with Christian character to face with faith and courage the tasks of life, and give a Christian testimony at all times. And we are further challenged to give the young people (4) training in practical Christian service, and instil in them a deep love and devotion for the church, so that they can return to their home community, or any other place in the church, and render acceptable Christian service—a service that will be received and appreciated where it is given; a service that will be indicative of church leadership of the kind which is needed.

Back of these challenges lies a challenge that is of even greater importance, because upon it is dependent the realization of the Christian educational objectives as a whole in the lives of the students. We refer to the challenge of securing competently trained men and women of God who have at heart an appreciation for the church and a loyalty to her, and who have the ability of inspiring students to absorb the same spirit of loyalty and devotion while being trained in the academic subjects they are pursuing. To maintain colleges staffed with men and women of this type, and to fill vacancies as occasion demands, and to fill new positions constantly being required with a growing program is a challenge that is indeed not lightly to be considered. The Board should therefore do everything possible to staff the colleges with trained Christian personnel who will on the front lines take up militantly the offensive to attain these objectives. After all, the production of Christian character through the educational process is the ultimate goal of all the objectives. Most of us are sufficiently old-fashioned to accept this formula.

It is a fact that "the greatest thing students carry from college is the uplift that comes from close contact with inspiring personalities," says Dr. C. C. Ellis. It is therefore important that we recognize that an inspiring personality does not necessarily need to be a Christian; on the other hand, a Christian may not always be an inspiring personality. The essential thing in the educational program is to have competently trained Christian teachers who are inspiring personalities. If I had my choice I would take the dynamic Christian with an inspiring personality and less academic training rather than a teacher with higher academic training who had neither the Christian nor the personality inspiring elements. Armstrong of Hampton is reported to have said that "Whatever of good teaching he ever did was Mark Hopkins' teaching through him, and on to his pupil Booker T. Washington." And Booker T. Washington said that Armstrong was the noblest, rarest human being he ever met. Why? Booker T. Washington remembered Armstrong because of the character he was, and Armstrong of Hampton remembered Mark Hopkins because of the character he was.

In the lives of the disciples, the character of Jesus and the influence of that sinless, magnetic, dynamic Christian personality made an impress much more forcibly than did even the perfect words which the Master spoke. So the impeccable Christian life of a well-trained instructor makes its greatest contribution upon the students through the inspiration which he imparts, and the idealism which he exemplifies.

Fortunate indeed have we been as a church to maintain our Christian educational institutions Christian and sound in the faith, and to make of them citadels in defense of the faith. The progress made during the last two decades has been encouraging in spite of the difficult problems constantly encountered. Yet there is much ground for improvement, and the task of maintaining ideals cherished never ceases to be a challenge.

Upon the educational administrative officers falls the greatest responsibility and to them comes the greatest challenge of meeting the challenges just enumerated. They must have a vision of the need, and must sense clearly the ideals of the objectives; they must have deep-seated convictions to make their educational institutions progressive centers of Christian training which inspire students to invest their lives loyally and faithfully in the cause of Christ and the church. They must have courage and must resolve to make of their institutions citadels in defense of the faith on the one hand as well as front-line offensives in the promotion of the Christian educational cause. It is not enough to be a good administrator; it is not enough to be a good financier and manager; there must also be a loyal, aggressive Christian leadership which does not falter to champion the cause of the church at any time in the interest of Christ and His kingdom.

No, the greatest challenges confronting the Board of Education are not the challenges of financial support of our schools, not of erecting the much-needed buildings and providing accommodations for a growing enrollment in our colleges; not the problem of modernizing classrooms and providing physical departments with new equipment; not the task of enlarging the number of volumes in our libraries; not the problem even of maintaining an educational standard equal to the best which qualifies us for standardization; no, it is not any one of these or all of them put together. The greatest challenges confronting the Board are the challenges which relate to the building of Christian character; challenges which relate to the developing of sound Christian conviction for truth and the right; the challenge to inspire youth with a love for Christ and the church that transcends all other affections and makes them willing to invest their lives for the extension of the kingdom of God. Stated in another way, it is a challenge of launching a positive Christian educational offensive against the blight of godless education which is being disseminated all over our country and is turning the hearts of young people away from God. Our church schools must send forth from the college campuses companies of young people armed with the Word of God and inspired with a courageous, living faith, to fight the evils of sin in society where they will make their contribution with the Christian training they have received. To this the Board of Education of the Mennonite Church is dedicated according to its constitution.

Mennonite Publication Board at Work

By O. N. Johns, Secretary

The Mennonite Publication Board is composed of twenty-nine directors appointed as follows: Three by General Conference; one by each of our district conferences for every five hundred members or fraction thereof; and three members-at-large by the Board. The Manager, Secretary, and Treasurer of the House are directors by virtue of their offices. When the Board was first organized and began to function in 1908, there were only twelve directors, three appointed by General Conference and the others by nine different conferences.

The Board has enlarged its building capacity at Scottdale, Pa., at different times and now again because of the increase of the volume of business, due to the blessings of the Lord and the co-operation and loyal support of the church in general, the present building is becoming inadequate in capacity and accommodations. The Board at its last biennial meeting took action authorizing an expansion in building. Because of the scarcity of labor, materials, and so forth, this will not be undertaken before 1947 or maybe 1948.

Besides the Publishing House at Scottdale, the Board owns and operates five branch bookstores: at Lancaster, Pa.; New Holland, Pa.; Souderton, Pa.; Kitchener, Ont.; and Goshen, Ind. (We do not own the buildings at Goshen and New Holland.) We are also planning the opening of a branch bookstore in eastern Ohio in 1946. These stores have had a large sale of books during these past years and we hope this may continue.

Description and approximate evaluation of properties now owned by the Board:

Scottdale:
Tile Building: Basement and three floors for the Publishing House	$100,000.00
(There are some apartments on the third floor.)
Brick Building: One store and nine apartments	18,000.00
Frame Building: Five apartments	7,000.00
Loucks House: Eight rooms	4,500.00
Lancaster: Two floors and basement	8,500.00
Souderton: Storeroom and two apartments	14,000.00
Kitchener: Two storerooms and four apartments	25,000.00
Farm: 160 acres, Clear Spring, Md.	10,000.00
Farm: 80 acres, Lincoln, Nebr.	10,000.00
Total	$197,000.00

The farms are both leased, without charge, for Civilian Public Service use. One to the Mennonite Central Committee and the other to the Peace Problems Committee.

A few new workers have been secured at the House but there still is a shortage of help in the editorial staff and in the manufacturing plant. This condition, we hope, will soon change. There are at present a number of prospective workers.

Bro. John C. Wenger has written the Advanced Quarterly Sunday School Lessons for the first and second quarter of 1946. Bro. Howard Charles is writing the lessons for the third and fourth quarters of 1946. The passing of Bro. Edward Yoder during the past year left this vacancy. But we were glad to be able to get the above-named brethren to help in the emergency. The brethren Aaron and George Loucks, workers in the House for many years, also passed to their eternal rest during the year. Bro. John R. Mumaw has promised to devote one half of his time to the interests of the Publishing House, beginning June 1, 1946.

Due to the shortage of paper and the lack of a full-time Tract Editor, the volume of business in the Tract Department has somewhat declined, but we hope to be able to build it up again in the near future. Bro. Harold Brenneman will be giving a major part of his time to this department.

Upon recommendation of the General Mission Board, early in 1946, we will be taking over the publication of El Heraldo Evangelico, a Spanish paper published for several years by Bro. Lester Hershey and others interested in the work among the Mexicans in United States.

The publication of a periodical especially for ministers is also under way. The book Lucy Winchester is just off the press. Two thousand sets of Matthew Henry's Commentary have been reprinted and are on the market. Menno Simons' Works is being checked for errors in translation and will probably not be ready for reprint until the latter part of this year. Glimpses of Mennonite History is being revised by Bro. John C. Wenger. Bro. Wenger is giving twelve months of time to the House. Due to a short illness and the Board asking him to write two quarters of Sunday-school lessons, the above work has been delayed. His major task is to write a book on Nonconformity which was requested by the General Problems and Publishing committees. Bro. J. B. Smith is preparing a Greek-English Concordance. A reprint of War, Peace, and Nonresistance, by Bro. Guy Hershberger is pending. The first edition is about exhausted. Most of the type is set for the reprinting of Martyrs' Mirror. It is planned that the revised summer Bible school courses should be ready by 1947.

With the expansion of our Book Sales Department, through the regional branch bookstores, comes the problem of book reviewing in order to be able to determine what books are safe to pass over our book shelves.

Plans for a comprehensive Book Reviewing Service are now in the making. This will likely be effected and in operation during 1946.

Action has been taken for a meeting of the Executive Committees of the Board and House with the Curriculums Committee and Sunday-school quarterly editors to review the present problem of providing suitable Sunday-school lesson outlines and materials. This meeting will probably be held in Scottdale some time in March.

Much emphasis is being placed on the production of good literature by Mennonite authors. Why should we not be able to produce the best for the Lord and the interests of His cause? And this should reach the all people.

We are in need of some new equipment at the House so that we may publish first class literature in a first class and efficient manner. During the war very little machinery was added or replaced.

The Board has appointed a committee to study the needs and present a revised constitution for adoption at its next biennial meeting.

Because of the growth and expansion of the work, this revision becomes necessary to meet the needs of the day.

The Lord has wonderfully blessed the work, for which we are thankful. With these blessings there come added responsibilities. The Board, the House, and the bookstores keenly feel this. We solicit the continued interest, prayers, and co-operation of the church in general.

"To the only wise God our Saviour, be glory and majesty, dominion and power, both now and ever. Amen" (Jude 1:25).

Mennonite Commission for Christian Education and Young People's Work

By Nelson Kauffman, Secretary-Treasurer

To give the readers of the Yearbook a bird's-eye view of the work of the Mennonite Commission for Christian Education and Young People's Work, one quotation is here given from the report of each officer and divisional secretary to the Oct. 26, 27, 1945 meeting. The Commission meets twice each year. In the fall meetings plans are laid for the coming year. The selections quoted from the reports are chosen with the view of portraying the thinking and planning that is being done in each area of work.

Chairman

"As one observes the powerful influence exerted and work done in both secular and religious youth movements which offer an outlet for the tremendous pent-up powers of the young people, we cannot help but feel that as a denomination we need to make more provision for a similar harnessing of the mighty powers of a large and growing group of earnest young people in our church.

"In the light of these eight years' experience I would have no suggestions for any major alterations in our organizational set-up. It would seem to me that the question is not so much a matter of altering our organizational structure and method of work as it is a matter of improving what we have."

Field Secretary

"In line with the adoption of 'Evangelism Through Christian Education' as a major emphasis for 1946, I propose to prepare a letter for district officers and group leaders explaining the nature and purpose of this major emphasis for the coming year. With this letter we would offer any assistance they might desire.

"I propose also the preparation of a leaflet describing the nature and purpose of 'Evangelism through Christian Education.' Some materials have been collected for this purpose and we hope to have it ready for distribution early in the year."

Sunday School Secretary

Superintendent Kits. "We can now report that we have received much favorable comment on these, however, we feel there is much room for improvement. It is our plan to revise the content of these kits and send them to all new superintendents and such old ones who request them, following the first of the year. We have been delayed on the Primary Kits because of publishing hindrances during wartime and our own inability to prepare the material fully. We gave an outline of these in our report last spring. We are also thinking of revising the small leaflet of "Suggestions for the Superintendent" into a pocket handbook with helps for the administrators of Sunday-school activities, including the annual lessons with helps and guides. We feel that with nearly 10,000 Sunday-school workers in our church, something of this nature should be desirable and helpful. This would then become an annual book. I find that many of this type are used from various sources by ministers and Sunday-school workers."

Curriculum Committee

The committee is also in the midst of a study of the adequacy of the present Sunday-school lesson quarterlies. Some of the questions which are being considered and on which the committee would welcome discussion and suggestions are the following:

"1. Are the present pupils' quarterlies adequately serving all of the age groups or is there need for another quarterly? If so, what age groups should it serve?

"2. Are the present teacher's quarterlies adequate for the needs of teachers of all age groups? If not, for which teachers should a new quarterly be provided?

"3. Would it be advisable to displace the present teachers' quarterlies with a monthly magazine for teachers which would carry in it departments providing helps for teachers in each of the age groups?

"4. Are there certain types of aids for teachers or pupils which are not being provided in the present quarterlies that should be included?"

Summer Bible School Secretary

"Indications from sections all over the church seem to point to increased number of Bible schools this year over last year. It seems that throughout the church there was a consciousness of the need of more Bible teaching, and that consciousness found expression in the conducting of many summer Bible schools. When this year's report is completed, we hope that our expectation will be an actuality.

"At this time continued intensive efforts are being put forth to hasten the efficient production of the revised summer Bible school curriculum materials. Paper restrictions have been lifted to a large degree, and we are endeavoring to have the new course ready for use during the summer of 1947."

Young People's Bible Meetings Secretary

"The Topics Committee is contemplating a meeting in the next month or two. Work is continuing on a new five-year cycle of topics, which are built upon the principle of presenting a Bible doctrine and then the Christian practices that should result from an acceptance of that doctrine. This cycle will likely begin in 1947.

"Your Secretary feels that a research study should be made of the Sunday evening meeting in the congregation in order that we may have further facts to guide us in preparing materials for Young People's Bible Meetings, and the other Sunday evening services of our congregations."

Young People's Activities Secretary

"At the last meeting of the Commission your secretary was instructed to submit at this meeting definite plans of procedure and suggestion of titles for a series of pamphlets or tracts directed especially to the needs of our young people. In accordance with this instruction, I wish to suggest the following subjects to be developed in small pamphlets which can be distributed in our congregations, and especially at Young People's Institutes and conferences: (1) How Good Do I Need to Be? Carl Kreider; (2) Do You Know Your Church? Paul Erb; (3) What Can We Do? Jess Kauffman; (4) What Do You Go to Church For? M. T. Brackbill. The writers of these pamphlets have been contacted and have given their consent. They will proceed in preparing them as soon as these pamphlets are authorized by the Commission. It seems to me it would be best if these pamphlets were made available for free distribution."

Week-Day Bible Schools Secretary

"Some of the materials now in use are being reprinted and some of the proposed new material for high-school classes is to be printed soon. The supply of other materials is so nearly exhausted that reprinting is being considered. The material used by local groups is doubtless very good and serving a very important need. It seems that if we could have materials available for wider distribution as we have had for Sunday school and summer Bible school, the work in weekday Bible school would take on a more definite and standard form and would quickly gain much wider acceptance. It is hardly to be expected that every community which now has some form of midweek activity would adopt the plan or materials suggested by the Publishing House or the secretary of weekday Bible schools. It is very likely that in many cases some other program would serve the local needs better. We do appeal for action in the direction of giving the church something for the usual needs of midweek groups."

Home Interests Secretary

"Besides the reviewing of literature relating to the home, speaking on Home Conference programs, assisting in the selection of suitable books for home and church libraries, some work has been done in the area of giving counsel to persons with home problems. It seems to me that here is a service that needs to be built up in some way so that those in our churches who have home problems may get the help they need either from their pastors or some other qualified persons."

Missionary Education Secretary

"A very useful pamphlet is even now in press at Scottdale outlining this material for studies on Africa. 'Africa Calls,' our own church publication, is listed, while a goodly number of other publications recommended by M.E.M. are also included. In some cases a brief statement about the book is included. It is proposed to circulate this folder very widely, especially over the mailing list of the Mission Board News Bulletin. A series of brief notices in the Gospel Herald on mission study are just beginning to make their appearance and will run for a number of weeks. This material is still in time we trust to give help and encouragement for the establishment of numerous classes during the winter months.

"Missionary education is crucial if we are not to lose ground in our church program of missions. It may never be taken for granted and not enough can merely be absorbed incidentally. There must be regular, systematic study and your secretary must do much more to stimulate, inspire, and help along this line."

Boys Activities Committee

"If the committee continues to function, it plans to give the following items early consideration:

"1. Co-ordination of boys' camp courses and activities, and the relationship of the Boys Activities Committee to boys' camp.

"2. The annual collection and publication of statistics which have to do with boys' activities in the church.

"3. The providing of an accumulation of suggested source materials for leaders.

"4. The planning for articles to appear in church periodicals with the view of helping in father-son relationships.

"5. The preparation of a series of tracts for boys."

Christian Workers' Training Secretary

"Does the new Winter Bible School program necessitate a rethinking of our program?

"How much correlation shall there be between the C.W.T. program and the courses offered by the winter Bible schools?

"How far shall we go in offering credits and issuing certificates to W.B.S. students?

"Shall the Commission issue examinations for courses offered?"

Eastern Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities

By Henry F. Garber, President

This year has brought peace to a war-torn world. All of us are thankful that the guns and bombs have been silenced. But already there is plenty of evidence that this is but a temporary peace. This is the peace that the world gives, but we are glad that there is a peace which passeth understanding, a peace that endureth, that can be had by all. To making known this peace, our board is dedicated.

We have had our share of problems during the year, but through them all God has been faithful. There have been souls saved who have found peace with God and the peace of God, and this is reward enough.

Building

During the year it was possible to provide a new church building for the work among the colored at Andrew's Bridge. The work here was carried on in a private home for almost ten years. Now with a new and convenient church building, the workers are much encouraged.

A new location was found for the work among the Spanish at Ybor City, Tampa, Fla. The building needs to be remodeled. This work is proceeding slowly because of labor shortage and difficulty in getting materials. Provision is being made for a kindergarten school in this building. It will also provide a much larger meeting room and much more satisfactory living quarters.

Another new church building is being planned for the Rawlinsville Mission. This work is sponsored by the New Danville district, but the board is underwriting the cost of the building.

Extension

The Itinerant Evangelism Committee has been active during the year in sending out groups to do summer Bible school and evangelistic work in Florida and Alabama. There were two such groups on the field during the past years, the Brewton, Alabama, area was found to be an open and needy field. As a result our board was asked to take over this field and provide permanent workers. Wilbur Martin and his wife have been ordained for this field and will move to that area in the near future.

Jewish Work

Our board has an active committee for Jewish work. About a year ago Brother Isaac Baer was appointed for full-time work in the Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, area. There are two additional part-time workers. This should make possible a greatly enlarged witness to the Jew. In these days of anti-Semitism the Jew seems more open to the Christian witness.

Africa

On the foreign field there have been a number of changes in personnel. The John Leatherman family and Phebe Yoder arrived home for furlough last spring after seven months on the way. Transportation home was very difficult to obtain during the war. Since the close of the war it has still remained difficult because of troop movements home. Clyde Shenks and Miriam Wenger and family have been waiting since September 1 for furlough passage, and at this writing are still waiting.

We need to record here with sorrow the sudden death of W. Ray Wenger last summer. He was missionary bishop of the South Mara district, beloved by missionaries and natives. He leaves a wife and three children who will miss his help and counsel.

New arrivals on the field during the year are Clinton and Mabel Ferster, Levi and Mary Hurst, Mahlon and Mabel Hess, and Edith Showalter. These additional workers ought to be a real help to the work.

During the war it was not possible to do more than plan for expansion, but now the mission is investigating two other fields not far away, and if favorable will enter them. Last August our board secretary, O. O. Miller, visited the field. No one else from the home board visited the field since the writer visited it seven years ago. His visit was much appreciated.

Apparently there is no land where the Christian missionary is so welcome as in pagan Africa. It is an open door and presents a challenge to the Christian church right now. A very recent step taken by our board is an official expression of interest in Ethiopia as a mission field and a willingness to undertake mission work there. This forward step ought to be a means of blessing to many more in Africa and a challenge to the church at home.

Finance

It is the Spirit of God that brings conviction to hearts. It is the Spirit of God that empowers the missionary for his task. But missionaries must eat and be clothed, must have housing, and must travel. All this requires money. The Church has been generous during the past year. Our treasurer received during the year more than $288,000. This is the largest income in the history of the board. It was not all for missions. Large sums were given for Civilian Public Service and for relief. But mission receipts were higher, too. We appreciate the generosity of the Church, and we want to be good stewards in its use. We look back on the year with gratitude and face the future with confidence. We can do this because missions is the most important business in the world.

Eastern Mennonite School

By Chester K. Lehman, Dean

It is a great pleasure for us to acknowledge the blessings of the Lord in all our work at Eastern Mennonite School. In a very real way every aspect of endeavor has shown definite leading and guidance. This gives us hope to trust Him more fully for still greater outpourings of His blessing in the future.

Enrollment Statistics

Possibly the best way to begin a survey of Eastern Mennonite School is to make a study of the enrollment in the various departments during the past five years. This reveals continued and steady growth in almost all departments of the school, particularly of college and high-school departments. The Special Bible Term has also enjoyed continued growth.

	High School	Junior High School	Special Bible	College	College Bible	S.B.T.	Total
1945-46	259	21	59	31	40	91	501
1944-45	248	24	57	4	30	113	476
1943-44	223	19	51	9	30	100	432
1942-43	180	29	52	11	19	76	467
1941-42	223	34	58	7	13	90	425

Faculty Statistics

Due to the growth in all departments, the teacher-pupil ratio remains too low. It has been difficult for us to make additions to the faculty to supply losses during the war emergency to take care adequately of the increased student enrollment. At the present time ten of our number hold the bachelor's degree; eight have completed some graduate work or hold the master's degree; three have completed work beyond the master's degree with almost all residence work completed for the doctor's degree; three of the faculty hold the doctor's degree.

The personnel of the faculty is made up of those who have just begun their teaching experience with some who have had twenty-eight years, an average of about fourteen. This presents a picture of a faculty at their best, although there is the continued need of adding younger members for the most desirable appeal to young people.

Growth Problems

This institution is experiencing common problems with all growing institutions. The faculty feels the increased burdens arising from large classes and heavy teaching programs. There is increased need for personnel service so that students will receive the needed guidance and direction in their own personal lives. A similar need is felt in the administration where there will soon be occasion to divide present responsibilities among others. It is the aim of Eastern Mennonite School to make these desired changes as rapidly as personnel can be chosen to assist in the work.

Student Personal Life Needs

Experience has taught us that more and more attention needs to be given to preparing young people for active Christian service. Frequently young people possess personality traits which may hinder them in future usefulness which, if corrected early in life, will mean much towards effective service. To this end a course is being introduced in the college Bible department labeled Personal Life and Work. In this course a "student is guided through experiences of self-analysis and personal discipline with the view of strengthening his personality and of deepening his Christian piety for Christian service in the church." Somewhat similar objectives are found in the two Bible fellowships organized respectively among the upper-classmen and lower-classmen of the college students. These provide "specialized experience in Christian devotion and religious thought. They are designed to help students maintain common interests in a devotional study of the Bible; to help them develop a deeper interest in a life work; to acquaint them with the Mennonite Church, its organizations and activities; to assist them in making adjustments for work in the Mennonite Church; to stimulate a deeper prayer life; and to provide guidance in the development of a well integrated personality."

Deepening the Spiritual Life

Intensified efforts are being made to develop the personal life of each student. Chapel talks are designed to cover various aspects of the spiritual life so that both young and older Christians will receive definite instruction and guidance in these areas. Two courses, offered in the high school and college departments respectively, are designed to develop the spiritual life. These courses deal with the Christian's spiritual experience. They consider the basis of assurance of salvation, the means of Christian growth, and the privileges of victorious living. They also emphasize various aspects of consecration, of Spirit infillings, and of the devotional life. They attempt to lead young Christians to an intelligent self-diagnosis and, by the grace of God, to apply the Bible remedy to their own soul's need.

Practical Work

Throughout the entire history of the School, students have been encouraged to engage in practical Christian work in the near-by city and community. Students have been conducting cottage meetings, services in the jail and almshouses, and also in mission Sunday schools within reach. In an effort better to direct students in this work, the faculty has brought the practical work of students under the supervision of the head of the Practical Theology Department who, with other faculty advisers in the Y.P.C.A., gives direction to these practical efforts. So far as college students are concerned, credit is given for this work in a course Practice in Christian Service. With this supervision of students' practical work, it is our hope that graduates leaving this institution will have experienced a valuable initiation into Christian service and will be better fitted to take their place in the work to which they are called.

Miscellaneous Emphases

With the growth of the college department a new literary society, the Zelathean, has been organized which is affording a healthy competition with the Smithsonian Society. Greater attention is being given to school publicity. The Extension Committee of the faculty is bringing before the church various publicity materials with the view of setting forth more adequately the life, spirit, and work of this institution. We desire that the church may know what is being offered their youth in this School. The monthly bulletin is being enlarged to serve more efficiently as an organ of expression for the actvities of the School.

The Special Bible Term

We are happy to observe continued and increasing interest in Special Bible Term, especially in view of other terms being conducted elsewhere in the church. During the current session a new three-six-year cycle is being launched. Feeling that more attention should be given to book studies, we are offering five such courses each year. Special attention is being given to the central doctrines of nonresistance and nonconformity. Courses of special interest to young Christians are Youth Guidance and Christian Assurance. Prospective and present home builders will enjoy the course in Christian Nurture in the Home and Home Building. We aim to give special attention to Christian Worker's Training, offering a sufficient number of courses each year to qualify a student for a certificate issued by the Mennonite Commission for Christian Education and Young People's Work.

A new feature of the Bible term is a ministers' course in a three-year cycle. For a number of years we have felt the increasing demand on the part of ministers and missionaries for studies especially adapted to their needs. This cycle includes courses in preaching materials from great books of the Bible; studies in the work of the minister; guides in selecting sermon materials, sermon delivery, and sermon building; studies in Bible interpretation and of the canon and text of the Bible; church organization and work of the minister; and study of the great doctrines of the Bible such as God, Jesus Christ, and the Holy Spirit. We anticipate a large interest on the part of ministers and missionaries in this new opportunity for preparing themselves more adequately for their service.

Looking Forward

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees this fall, approval was given for the Administration to carry forward a program of expansion leading to the offering of a four-year college course. Tentative plans call for expanding the work with the view of requesting approval of the State Board of Education for offering the A.B. and B.R.E. degrees in 1948 and of advancing to accreditment as a standard college by 1950. During the current year four lines of investigation are being conducted. First, a study is being made of our present school program with the view of determining our status concerning faculty, library, laboratories, instruction, etc. This self-study should lead to improving the quality of our college instruction; it should reveal further needs to be met in the expanded program. Second, a study is being made of the four-year college program with the view of outlining requirements and of developing the several departments for a four-year program. A third line of investigation concerns the college Bible course. At present we are looking forward to organizing a five-year integrated A.B. and Th.B. course. This is done in order to satisfy the desires of many students for securing a broader liberal arts training together with more advanced Bible study. Fourth, we are greatly concerned how Eastern Mennonite School can make a greater contribution to maintaining the principles of our faith and to intensifying the spirit of evangelism.

An examination of the school plant shows that our laboratories in physics, chemistry, and biology are well equipped for junior college work and could be expanded for a limited four-year program with the expenditure of several thousand dollars. The library is about two-thirds minimum size for a four-year college program. Obviously, the expansion will call for the addition of several teachers so as to release sufficient faculty strength for the college department. Requirements for securing approval for granting the bachelor's degree call for at least four full-time instructors with the equivalent of the doctor's degree to head as many departments or divisions in the college. We should be able to meet this need within two years. We look to the church for counsel and guidance as we attempt to expand the school program.

Plans are on foot for the erection of a new girls' dormitory. At a recent meeting of the Executive Committee definite plans were made to go forward with the building project during the coming year. The plans call for a three-story building above the basement on the plan of an "H." The basement will afford a spacious dining hall and the stories above will give ample room for the accommodations of 150 girls together with other needed quarters such as social room, infirmary, and offices for nurse and physician.

Conclusion

It is the confident hope that with the material and external expansion of the school there will be a corresponding deepening of the spiritual life. We trust that the school may continue to be a bulwark in the defense of the faith of the Mennonite Church and that it may continue to function as a training ground for future workers in the church. Harrisonburg, Va.

Lancaster Mennonite School

By J. Paul Graybill, Principal

With the opening of the 1945-46 term, a number of new teachers greeted the school, as well as many new students, among them seventy-four Freshmen. Because of draft claims, Bro. Clyde B. Stoner, our teacher in Music and Commercial subjects, and Business Manager, had to leave us. Bro. Mahlon M. Hess, who served as Bible teacher and Hall Manager for the past two years, answered the missionary call and has gone to Tanganyika, Africa. Bro. Amos W. Weaver is now serving as Business Manager and Bible teacher. Bro. J. Lester Brubaker is serving as Hall Manager and Bible teacher. Sister Martha Mosemann of Lancaster is teaching the Commercial subjects. Bro. Christian K. Lehman comes to the school one day a week and teaches all the music courses.

The student enrollment made a rapid advance over past years. The initial enrollment was 192. The freshman class was so large that in a number of subjects there was need to make two sections. This increase in enrollment affected not only classroom space but more especially girls' dormitory space which has advanced the serious need for larger quarters. Another need that has existed from the very beginning of the school is the need for a larger auditorium.

With the above situations in mind the Board of Trustees, with the approval of the Board of Bishops, has proceeded to make plans for a large new building, size 156 by 140 feet. This building is to be of a combination type. The first floor will house the offices and classrooms with an auditorium in the center seating about 1200. The second floor is to be a girls's dormitory. It will provide dormitory room for about 100 girls; the boys having sufficient room in the present buildings. The basement will have a large dining room, a number of classrooms and other necessary rooms. With the day students this new building will provide facilities for about 400 students.

A competent architect has prepared the plans and solicitation for funds is in progress. It is hoped to be completed by the beginning of the 1946-47 term.

Because of the crowded conditions Special Bible Term, which usually meets here the beginning of the year, had to be dropped. But instead of having a Special Bible Term day school the Bible School Board, after due consideration, planned for the the usual two-night-a-week school here and in addition to this five similar evening regional schools. These five schools had two evenings a week classes during January and February. These schools were conducted in the following centers: Weaverland, Manheim, Elizabethtown, Mountville, and Hanover. In order to man these six schools a personnel of fifty brethren are included in its administration and teaching force. It is a large undertaking and may result in a providential blessing through the distribution of teaching facilities to larger areas of our church than the centralized plan would serve for. It will serve many more students for a lesser time and will miss the advantages of a consecutive, intensive Bible program of six continuous weeks.

While no definite plans have yet been made, yet it is at times discussed as being the thinking of a number of brethren interested in the future of our educational work that our high-school work should not be centralized too much, but that junior high schools be established in various areas of the church. At present none have yet been established except those that are associated with the elementary Christian day schools in various sections of our Conference area, which have two years of high-school work offered. There is also a rising concern that the church move forward with a more intensive and well-planned Bible teaching program that is somewhat commensurate to the emphasis placed on high-school work by the state.

Lancaster Mennonite School is interested in giving an education of standard grade, guarded and directed so that the students and graduates of this school become supporters and active exponents of the faith of Christ and the church. Bible studies and religious activities give religious tone to the work. Any who are interested from other areas are invited to investigate concerning the opportunities afforded here. We also ask an interest in the prayers of the church for the continuance of the work on a Scriptural and safe basis.

A PRAYER

Lord, give me tact to speak for Thee,
For hearts are hurt so easily,
And sometimes, too, we thoughtless are,
And hasty words may leave a scar—
Lord, make me wise to be more kind,
That love alone may fill my mind.

Lord, give me strength to work for Thee,
That all the tasks Thou givest me,
Done in Thy power, may yet seem light,
And each succeeding day more bright;
For in Thy service hearts grow strong
In helping weary ones along
The climbing way that leads to Thee—
Lord, give me strength to work for Thee,

Lord, give me grace to live for Thee—
To live in faith, in purity,
In joy that deeper is than woe,
In love that cannot but o'erflow,
That others, knowing me, may see
Not self—but Christ, abides in me.
Lord, give me grace to live for Thee.

In Memoriam

Aaron Loucks

By John L. Horst

Aaron Loucks

The passing of Bro. Aaron Loucks on Aug. 20, 1945, removed another one of the brethren who were active in establishing the organized work of the church a generation or more ago. The son of Jacob S. and Mary Saylor Loucks, he lived to the ripe age of 80 years and 9 months. He lived all his life in Scottdale and vicinity with the exception of thirteen months' residence in Riverside, California. He was twice married. To his marriage with Amelia C. Medsgar three children were born, all of whom survive. His second marriage was to Sadie Saylor, who preceded him in death about a year.

He was a member of the Mennonite Church since the spring of 1887, and was a charter member of the Scottdale congregation when it was incorporated in January, 1898. He was ordained to the ministry at Stonerville, now Alverton, Pa., Sept. 18, 1892, and as bishop at Scottdale, Jan. 10, 1897. He was the moving spirit in having a church built in Scottdale in 1893, and took an active interest in the erection of the present building in 1939.

He was the founder of the Mennonite Publishing House and was the leader in beginning the publication of the Gospel Witness in 1905, which was merged with the Herald of Truth in 1908 to become the Gospel Herald. At this time the institution became the official publication headquarters of the Mennonite Church. He served as manager of the Mennonite Publishing House until 1935.

Bro. Loucks spent much time in church work and was active in all the organized activities of the church, especially General Conference, the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities, and the Mennonite Board of Education, of which he served as treasurer for a number of years. As chairman of the Mennonite Relief Commission for War Sufferers he made a trip to the Near East in the early part of 1918. He was a leader in the peace work of the church during World War I and was especially active in contacting government officials and visiting brethren in camps.

He attended some of the early Sunday-school conferences held among the Mennonites, being present at the second General Sunday School Conference, held at the Zion Mennonite Church near Bluffton, Ohio, in 1893, and at the third, held near Middlebury, Ind., in 1894. His vision of the possibilities for such meetings held for the benefit of Sunday-school workers was among the factors which led to the beginning of the Mennonite Sunday School Conference of the Southwestern Pennsylvania district, the second annual session of which was held with the Scottdale congregation in October, 1896.

From observing and learning about the Bible conference movement as it was then carried on by Bible teachers like R. A. Torrey and others, Bro. Loucks conceived the idea that Bible teaching of that type would do much toward supplying the existing need of more basic Bible instruction for the rank and file of the membership of the Mennonite denomination. He succeeded in awakening interest among his younger co-workers, with the result that the first Bible conference held in a Mennonite congregation was conducted at Scottdale for two weeks beginning Dec. 28, 1896.

In his active years Bro. Loucks filled a large place in the church as a member of church-wide and district boards and local conferences and General Conference. His counsel in public meetings and to individuals was much valued. The writer valued the friendship and help of Bro. Loucks very much. He lived to see the Mennonite Publishing House, of which he was the founder, to grow from a small beginning on the garret of his home to an institution having assets of nearly half a million dollars. Even though inactive in the work of the church during his later life, during the past year he showed a special interest in the affairs of both the Publishing House and the church.

Daniel Henry Bender

By Paul Bender

Daniel Henry Bender was born on January 18, 1866, near Grantsville, Maryland, the second son in a family of eight sons and one daughter. As a young man he taught school and conducted summer normal schools near Grantsville, Maryland, and Springs, Pennsylvania, following this teaching profession for about twenty years. At the age of twenty-one he was ordained to the ministry at Springs, Pennsylvania, and in his early years he was active also as a minister along with his teaching. In these years he traveled widely throughout the church, preaching as an evangelist and conducting Bible Normals. Later in his life, in 1912, he was also ordained as bishop.

Early in his church work, he became one of a group of active young men who were leaders in the growing activities of the church and who were destined to give long years of service to the church as leaders in molding the thought and activities of the church in a very important period of awakening and expansion. The group included J. S. Coffman, Daniel Kauffman, M. S. Steiner, A. D. Wenger, J. S. Shoemaker, D. D. Miller, D. J. Johns, Aaron Loucks, S. F. Coffman, and others. With them he was active in promoting church conferences and the beginnings of the General Conference and of the Mission, Education, and Publication Boards of the church. He served in important positions on each of these boards, as well as on numerous church committees of various kinds. Through these evangelistic, Bible normal, and official church activities he became widely known throughout the church, and all through his life he enjoyed the personal acquaintance and friendship of many individuals and families in many Mennonite communities. Wherever he was known, he was held in high esteem.

His editorial work for the church began in 1903 when, under the direction of J. F. Funk of Elkhart, Indiana, he took over the writing of the Advanced Sunday School Lesson Quarterly, formerly written by J. S. Coffman and J. S. Shoemaker. He wrote this Advanced Quarterly for nine years. In 1905 he inaugurated also the Primary Lesson Quarterly, which he continued to write for seventeen years. Later he started also the Lesson Picture Cards and wrote the text for these cards for many years.

In 1904 he left his teaching at Grantsville, Maryland, to accept the editorship of the Herald of Truth and the Beams of Light, being published at Elkhart, Indiana, by the Mennonite Publishing Company. The Herald of Truth was then serving as the Mennonite church paper. After a little over a year he resigned this position and returned to Pennsylvania. In March, 1906, he was called to Scottdale, Pennsylvania, to become office editor of the new church paper, the Gospel Witness. He continued also as office editor, with Daniel Kauffman as editor, of the Gospel Herald, started in 1908 as a merger of the Gospel Witness and the older Herald of Truth. The Gospel Herald was inaugurated as the official organ of the church published under the Mennonite Publication Board. For a time he edited also the Words of Cheer. His direct connection with the publication work of the church ended with his call to educational work in 1909, although he continued for some years to write Sunday-school literature, and to serve in other important capacities as member of committees for the Publication Board.

In April, 1909, he left his work at Scottdale to accept a call from the Mennonite Board of Education to open a new church school at Hesston, Kansas. His service to the educational interests of the church through his leadership in starting and directing the work of this school became the largest single service he rendered to the church. In collaboration with J. D. Charles, who was associated with him in the early years of the school, he planned for and opened in September, 1909, Hesston Academy and Bible School. As principal of the school, as originally organized, and later as president, when the school added a college department and was called Hesston College and Bible School, he saw the school grow under his direction from an enrollment of about twenty in the academy to an enrollment of about two hundred, including for several years a full four-year college program. The school was organized, at least in part, to fill the need for general and Biblical education under the direction of the church for a certain section of the church, but it also filled a larger need in helping to train leadership for the church as a whole at a time when there was some dissatisfaction with the existing educational facilities of the church. Students came to Hesston from all parts of the church and were molded to furnish a certain type of leadership for the church. A relatively large proportion of Hesston students, attending under D. H. Bender's leadership, have found places of permanent service in the church, as ministers, as teachers in church schools, as missionaries, and as church workers in various capacities. It is this indirect influence, through those whose thinking and ideals of service he helped to mold, which stands as perhaps his most significant contribution to the life of the Mennonite Church which he lived to serve. His work at Hesston College ended with his resignation from active service in August, 1930, at which time he gave up also his offices of minister and bishop.

His interests and activities reached out also to other Mennonite groups. At the close of World War I he was active in organizing relief to Mennonites of Europe and in helping with their migrations to America. He helped to organize and was president of the Mennonite Colonization Board, which represented, in addition to the Mennonite Church, also the groups of Mennonites having migrated from Russia. He was also active in the early organization and operation of the Mennonite Central Committee, which represents all Mennonite branches. These interests led him to travel widely in the United States and Canada, partly to examine possible colonization sites for Mennonite immigrants from Europe.

D. H. Bender was married three times. His first wife, Ida E. Miller, died in 1902, leaving three children, Ralph Menno, Paul, and Ruth. His second wife, Sallie Miller, left him with two sons, Luke and Earl, when she passed away in 1918. His third wife, Anna E. Kreider, has survived him with her two children, Daniel Henry, Jr., and Norma Elizabeth.

After his retirement in 1930, he lived for short periods in California, North Dakota, and Kansas, and finally settled at Albany, Oregon, where he lived with his family until his death on January 22, 1945. He had just passed his seventy-ninth birthday, almost reaching the goal of eighty years which he often said he expected to attain. He had lived a long and strenuous life, given to the service of Christ and the Mennonite Church, and had left behind an unusually large influence on the thought and activities of the church.

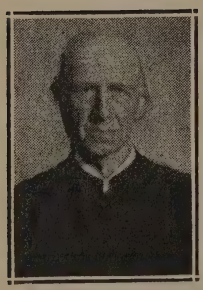
Israel Bowman Good

By Ira D. Landis



Israel Bowman Good

Israel Bowman Good was born southwest of Bowmansville (where Aaron Wise now lives) in the home of John H. and Lavina Bowman Good. He was a descendant of Pre. Christian Bowman, Jacob Good, and other Bowmansville pioneer lineage.

As a boy Israel attended the nearby Good School, near Center Church. For three years in school he enjoyed the tutorship of one who was both an expert psychologist and an exacting pedagogue, namely, John S. Weaver, of Bridgeville, East Earl Township.

At seventeen he took a qualifying examination given by County Superintendent B. F. Shabu, and immediately began teaching at Conestoga. Here John M. Sauder, later minister and bishop of the Weaverland-Groffdale District, and M. G. Weaver, who was to become a noted Conference historian, were his pupils. He taught various schools in the Earl townships before coming to Terre Hill.

On September 8, 1885, Bro. Good married Hettie, the daughter of Michael and Elizabeth Brendle Witmer, who was reared on a neighboring farm. From 1887-97 there were born four children, who brightened this home. They were Walter, Paul, Mabel, and Marian.

The family first lived near Blue Ball, but by 1889 were residing on a three-acre tract, east of Union Grove. By 1906, after twenty-six years of teaching, Bro. Good realizing that two nervous strains were too many, turned to farming. On April 1, 1906, Bro. Good bought the 60-acre farm of Christian Weaver. all but four acres of which he sold in 1913 to Samuel R. Weaver. In 1912, on those retained acres, he built, along the Bowmansville-Blue Ball Road, his home where he since resided.

In 1889 the Goods accepted Christ as their personal Saviour, and, as regenerated souls, were received into church membership by Bishop Martin Rutt at Weaverland. Bro. Good at once became active in Sunday-school work, which in that district was still in its infancy. On December 17, 1903, Bro. Good was placed in the ministerial class of seven. The lot fell to his portion, and he was ordained for the Weaverland circuit.

Bro. Good, active in church and Sunday-school endeavor, was deliberative, precise, and thought-provoking. He was on the program of the first Sunday-school meeting in Lancaster County, at Red Well, Nov. 22, 1904. An important decision of his life was his turn to farming. Here the family grew up sharing their parents' love for the soil and farm, the healthiest and best environment for our children, as Bro. Good always advised. This also released him for more church duties.

A few years after the action, through the intercession of Bishop Martin Rutt, permitting revival meetings in Lancaster Conference (fall of 1905), Bro. Good was called into this field, with some of the first Mennonite evangelists—Noah Mack, John B. Senger, S. G. Shetler, Sanford B. Landis, and the Mosemann brothers.

Whenever the Weaverland Mission Committee called upon him, he was ready. He opened Loag's Corner in 1922, and helped to dedicate the Reading Mission in 1926.

As a teacher, he was early interested in a teachers' meeting for Sunday-school teachers. This he started as an itinerary activity in private homes in 1900, and later, under his teaching, it became known as the Goodville Teachers' Meeting, and now continues at Martindale.

In 1912 he organized the Weaverland Young People's Meeting, "distinctly for young people." Bro. Good also made a special contribution in conserving our peace testimony. When World War I became a reality, Lancaster Conference happily appointed Bros. Good and J. C. Habecker as a Peace Problems and Camp Visitation Committee. Bro. Good had the conviction that (1) since the greatest blessing to the church had come from a rural people, we should remain a rural people; and (2) our boys in a crucial period of life need to be actively engaged in a productive way, and nothing is of more good to humanity than agriculture. Through the Conference the Committee was empowered to petition the President to permit the boys to be employed in agriculture "raising crops and producing foodstuffs such as the Government may deem necessary for the maintenance of national interests (and) that the above-named (Lancaster) Conference hereby expresses its willingness to secure a sufficient quantity of productive land for the employment of said brethren."

This proposal was blocked within and without, yet with the same conviction, and through personal contact with W. W. Griest, our Washington representative, Bro. Good plodded on, not discouraged. After a visit to Camp Meade February, 1918, he met Griest for the purpose of helping draft a bill proposing the furloughing of our boys for agricultural purposes. On March 16, 1918, Bro. Good, by national legislation, saw his dream of months realized. (This was possibly the only national law ever drafted by a Mennonite. Soon afterward, thirty-four Camp Meade boys were in Maryland on farms and ninety out of camp. This lesson was forgotten in this war.)

Two incidents occurred during the war, in which Bro. Good displayed the astuteness of a lawyer and the sagacity of a Christian. He long had desired an opportunity to interview Secretary Baker, (who had some nonresistant blood in his veins), but had always been sidetracked. Eventually, however, a half-hour interview was granted, and Bro. Good made use of every moment, cautiously weighing every statement. When the half hour was ended, without promising anything, Secretary Baker arose to leave. With mutual greetings and a new appreciation of our Scriptural position, they parted. Thereafter, our boys officially received far better treatment for the duration.

When William G. Lauver (now of the Argentine Mission) was drafted as an ordained young man, Bro. I. B., as he was sometimes called, had an interview with General Crowder. The latter contended that "the Church has no right to ordain boys to the ministry." Bro. Good answered, "but here is the law, General Crowder (about ministers); what are you going to do with it?" The General would sally forth on one argument after another, but Bro. I. B. humbly asked again and again: "All right, General Crowder, but here is the law; what will you do with it?" He had to leave disappointed, but in three days Bro. Lauver was back in Juniata County, Pennsylvania, a discharged man.

Bro. Good did his own thinking, and was not swayed by the shallow theology of his day. He was misunderstood and misquoted sometimes, as are most men who have taken up the cross of Christ and have added to men's store of knowledge. Bro. Good was not a transient emotionalist in the pulpit. He entered not to amuse, but as a muser for the good and growth of those who needed food; nor was he an autobiographer who mused and perused when men needed Christ. To the last, he lamented the straddling and confusion in our teaching, which, with its concomitant blurring of the Anabaptist vision, results in a decided loss of power.

He loved to take small congregations and see them grow. He had special charge of Martindale and Churchtown. He entered the latter when there were only five members, and today, at his passing, there are sixty-six. Martindale also had only a very few members. He asked Sanford B. Landis to conduct meetings there toward the end of the first decade. Bro. Sanford was discouraged and wanted to leave. Bro. Good, however, would not permit this. A class of applicants for church membership resulted, and today there are 276 members.

Regardless of other duties, for Bro. Good the home congregation was first. His visitations were a mutual blessing. Not his efforts alone, but his influence had a decided bearing upon both congregations, as well as the entire district and conference.

He was no writer, but from his sermons and letters I have selected the following:

"Life is but a short time here, yet in it we can do inconceivable harm or priceless good."

"It makes no difference what my opinion is, or what the other person's opinion is, but it makes a decided difference what the Word of God says about it."

"When a sinner looks out of the windows of his own heart, he imagines that the spots and the stains are upon another window."

"The glory of the Lord is the saint's portion. His beautiful life may be copied."

Many were the joys and sorrows of such a long, useful life. Twice he passed through the lot for bishop. In 1926, he was caught in an electric storm near Witmer, Pa., when his wife suggested that they stop with his good friend, Sanford B. Landis. He wanted to go farther and he did. Sanford and a carpenter were killed by lightning during the same storm. Many were his contacts with the Mennonite boys and the officials during the first World War. Frequent were his contacts with Griest and Kinzer (a pupil of his in his teaching years) by which he was an intermediary between his people and Washington. The latter was with him as late as a week before his passing. This phase of his ministry was almost unknown and unrealized.

After a strong doctrinal sermon at Weaverland, May 14, 1939, he came home to enjoy visitors. That afternoon he suffered a partial stroke. After that, his ministry was chiefly that of counsel and inspiration. On February 25, 1945, his wife was called home, and seven weeks thereafter, on April 17, Bro. Good laid his armor by, and passed away, beloved and lamented.—Condensed from Christian Monitor.

W. Ray Wenger

By Ira D. Landis

W. Ray Wenger

From "Afric's sunny fountains" to Elysian fields of glory a faithful missionary and beloved brother, W. Ray Wenger, was taken early on June 9 after being stricken four days with a kidney condition accentuated by malarial fever. Bro. Wenger was the first so claimed in more than eleven years of Tanganyika mission work, possibly the first Mennonite to reach glory from Africa, and the youngest Mennonite bishop in history to finish his work on earth and reach his home on high.

W. Ray was born on Oct. 27, 1910, and reared in the Mellinger District in Lancaster County. Here he was converted and here he married Miriam Landis. Here both were called and consecrated as workers on the Africa mission field. On Feb. 23, 1937, they sailed for Tanganyika. As treasurer of the Mission since his arrival and as South Mara bishop since April 24, 1941, he has shown himself "a man of God."

In His Service

In studying his life we notice the rare qualities so valuable and much desired in church leaders—ability, stability, and humility. He keenly appreciated the truth of John 12:24 and made it a life motto: "Except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone: but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit." This was the core of the text used at the Mellinger memorial service held on June 24.

The following expressions, spoken or written by Bro. Ray at various times, further reveal some of the truth and conviction which motivated his life:

"Let us remember that we have been called to win souls and to build up souls in Christ. We are also to pray for souls. I sometimes feel that the greatest ministry lies in praying for souls—interceding at God's throne for them."

"We must ever have our eyes upon Christ, who also was misunderstood, despised, and rejected of men. Christ will never leave nor fail us."

"There are joys in the work of the Lord, joys which are unspeakable and full of glory. To see souls come through and have victory in Christ, reject the devil and forsake the world—to be used of God in helping souls to find this deliverance, brings a deep, deep, joy which makes up for our disappointments."

"Why there should be divisions in the body of Christ is difficult for me to understand. The body of Christ is one, with one Head. The unity of the church may be found through Calvary; Calvary has made peace, perfect peace."

Several testimonies from his friends and fellow workers on the field further help us to understand Bro. Wenger's life and service:

"Not a more levelheaded man has been on our mission field. One could speak with him concerning controversial matters without becoming heated because he spoke in the spirit of Christ and you could feel a warmth of spirit that melted all coldness."

"He was one who never went off on a tangent; we all respected his decisions and depended heavily upon them."

"He was stable as a leader. He did nothing for effect. He loved his Saviour and Lord more than the pleasures of the world."

On any question of doctrine and administration all knew where he stood. His last message was on Rev. 3:14-22, a warning to his flock, which we trust will be his crown and joy of rejoicing. His Bible has two red circles around two verses in the third chapter of John: "This my joy therefore is fulfilled" (v. 29) and 'He must increase, but I must decrease" (v. 30). This he often quoted and lived out in his life. Toward the end of his life he especially appreciated the songs in the Revelation, as if in preparation for entry into the angelic choir.

Crowned—Mourned

"I am going to sleep now," were the last words Ray was heard to speak on earth. The following morning he peacefully passed away to be with his Lord. On his eleventh wedding anniversary his remains were placed in a casket and laid by a granite boulder on the slope of a Mugango hill overlooking the compound where he served. On the lawn a group of five hundred people, heathen and Christians, had assembled for a funeral service which will long be remembered. Some of the natives had walked twenty-five miles to be present.

Bro. Wenger is dead, but his life and testimony still live and continue to speak. His last counsel was given to two fellow missionaries while on his deathbed. Sorrow-stricken as the African Mennonite Church is, the promises of God may still be claimed in the words of Sister

Wenger: "I still believe Romans 8:28 regardless of how the future may look."

May the Lord continue to find faithful workers to carry on the work and guide our church from glory to glory, and in His own time graciously call us home.—Condensed from the Missionary Messenger.

Edward Yoder

By John C. Wenger

Edward Yoder was born July 30, 1893 near Kalona, Iowa, the son of Mahlon T. and Mary Yoder. As a young man he craved higher education and enrolled at Hesston Academy in 1915 and at Hesston College 1917, remaining a student until 1920 when he became a teacher in the academy and Bible school. On August 4, 1920 he married Estie Miller of Springs, Pennsylvania; their son Virgil Edward was born August 28, 1932.

Edward Yoder was determined to get a thorough education. He received an A. B. degree from Hesston College, 1920; an M. A. degree from the State University of Iowa, 1924; and a Ph. D. degree from the University of Pennsylvania, 1928. His doctor's dissertation was entitled, "The Position of Possessive and Demonstrative Adjectives in the Noctes Atticae of Aulus Gellius." He was also minded to dedicate all his learning and talents to the service of Christ and the church. He again taught at Hesston, 1928-32, and was dean, 1929-32. He taught Greek and Latin at Goshen College, 1926-28 and 1933-38, and served as dean of men, 1935-37. During his years of teaching he produced one major contribution to Mennonite history, his Epistolae Grebelianae, 1517-1525. These letters of Conrad Grebel in English, still unpublished, are a prime source of information regarding the life of the founder of the Swiss Brethren and regarding the establishment of that religious group.

In 1938 Edward Yoder moved with his family to Scottdale, Pennsylvania, where he took up his duties as editor of the Advanced Sunday School Lesson Quarterly, a position which he filled in a splendid manner. In the capacity of editor he wielded great influence in the Mennonite Church. He did his work carefully, with thorough study and with beauty of style. His articles in The Mennonite Quarterly Review on nonresistance and nonconformity exhibit first-class scholarship coupled with loyalty to the Word of God and deep love for the church. He also wrote quarterly notes for the Gospel Herald entitled "Peace Items of Interest." His treatise, Must Christians Fight: A Scriptural Inquiry, is a thorough reply to the militaristic "fundamentalists" of the day.

He was also the author of several works of a more general nature. In 1942 he wrote a booklet entitled Our Mennonite Heritage for use in C.P.S. camps. The same year he produced a thorough and interpretative work, The Mennonites of Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania. He produced four works of a doctrinal nature, for use in our Sunday schools, entitled Lessons in Christian Doctrine. These four dealt respectively with the trinity, with man and salvation; with the church and with the Christian life.

Edward Yoder

He was ill but a short time preceding his early death, of cancer, on March 28, 1945. The funeral sermon was preached in the Scottdale Mennonite Church on March 31 by John L. Horst, his fellow editor and pastor. His body was interred in the Scottdale cemetery.

Edward Yoder also rendered valuable service to Mennonite historiography by serving as associate editor of The Mennonite Quarterly Review and of the Studies in Anabaptist and Mennonite History. He was treasurer of the historical committee of Mennonite General Conference and co-editor of Mennonite Historical Bulletin since 1941. He was also, since 1938, secretary of the curriculum committee of the Mennonite Commission for Christian Education and Young People's Work. In his passing the Mennonite Church has sustained a great loss.

Edward Yoder has gone to be with Jesus. Could he now speak to his friends he would call them to faithfulness so that they too might have the blessed entrance into Life which is his.—Courtesy of Mennonite Historical Bulletin.

The editor says, "Our aim has been to present information that is accurate, true to facts, brief yet complete; arranged in a convenient way, so that anyone desiring to have information concerning any point bearing on Mennonitism may find in a few minutes what he wants."

Four hundred twelve pages are taken up with the Dictionary proper. Then follows the Appendix, consisting of three main topics, namely: (1) Mennonite Centers of Population with illustrative maps; (2) Source Material used in the compiling of the book; (3) Fifty Fundamental Doctrinal Facts with brief analysis of each.
